YEARBOOK

THE AEOLIAN

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIORS OF '38

Olive Minniear, Editor

The class of '38 takes pleasure in presenting to you this Aeolian inspired by the pupils and their sponsors of Garrett High School.

It is our hope that as you peruse the following pages, filled with pictures of old familiar things, you will find pleasure and profit both now and in the years to come.

GARRETT HIGH SCHOOL

Garrett High School means nothing at all important unless its foundations, laid deep and broad with solid concrete, suggest that TRUTH is the only foundation on which we can build enduring lives. It means nothing at all important unless its superstructure, overarched and undergirded with steel, teaches us that character, and CHARACTER ALONE, will hold our lives together and enable us to stand "four-square to all the winds that blow."

The School Beautiful means nothing at all important unless its interior, beautiful and immaculate as it is, persuades us to keep free from all stain the white-walled corridors of our own hearts. It means nothing at all unless its symmetrical whole and its FAR HORIZONS, revealing the clear purpose of those who conceived and built it, reminds us that noble purpose, nobly executed, and this alone, will make our lives both beautiful and useful.

SONG OF THE CLASS OF '38

(Tune—Notre Dame Victory March)

*Seniors on to victory go,
Fight for the right and never lie low.
We must work and sow against strife,
But we'll reap our blessings in later life*

*So come on Seniors, let's show them how,
'Cause we're all going to get there somehow;
We'll reach the top and graduate
As the class of '38.*

—Majane Patterson, '38.

. . . through whose experiences, associations, and masteries our horizons have become so broadened that it may truly be said, "We have become the heirs of all the ages."

CLASS POEM

*Listen, my children, and I'll relate
The tale of the Class of '38.
Four years ago in bright September,
Ah, how fully I remember!
As freshies we entered Garrett High
Determined that we'd do or die.
In our sophomore year we struggled through
With the attitude to "Live and Do!"
In our junior year we lived and did,
To fortune we had placed our bid.
Now after four short years have pass'd
We find ourselves as Seniors class'd.
From here our step is into space,
We'll meet the whole world face to face.
But when "The World" is our address
We'll still remember G. H. S.
Thru the many hours from now till then
We'll be the class from "way back when."*

I WISH

*I wish I were a "freshie"
A startin' back to school;
I'd be a model pupil,
And never break a rule.*

*I'd study all my lessons;
I'd "root" at every game;
And I would never tardy be,
Nor ever be to blame.*

*I know you'll think me foolish,
But somehow in my heart,
I wish I could go back again
And make a brand new start.*

—A '38 Senior.

Big Bug: "Where are you going little flea?"

Flea: "Oh! I'm going to the dogs!"

A man doesn't mind a girl having a little powder on her face, but he sure hates to be seen on the street with a human marshmallow.

WHY is our ANNUAL like a GIRL?

BECAUSE every FELLOW should have ONE of his Own and not BORROW someone ELSE'S! !

MAROON AND BLUE STAFF

Dorothy — Koble reporting a happy "accident."

Doris Fuller—It's obvious she's distributing Maroon and Blues.

Ruth Custer, Robert Herberger, Miss Mildred Evard, Nelson Ross, Dorothy Warfield, Mildred Millhouse, John Grimm, Francis Smith, Glenn Kistler, Miss Effie Gump.

The April Fool issue was one big joke.

Darrell Marr, Ronald Freeze, Frank Eldridge, "Roll 'em over!"

Jerome Heinlen, John Sapp—other experts at mimeographing.

Mary Micu, Doris Bowmar, Lee Hughes, Marguerite Durr, Joan Umbenhower, Mary Jo Behler, Ruth Shaffer, Ottilee Hall, Geneva Warstler, DeVella Sleek.

Serious thoughts for a serious page.

Jean Redman—looking over "just one happy family!"

Richard Likens — conventional lines from an unconventional position.

MAROON AND BLUE

Again this year, Maroon and Blue, under the supervision of Miss Evard, has completed a successful year in journalistic achievement.

Hilarious staff parties, exciting field trips to Fort Wayne and Danville, and dead line production, lightened the tedious work of writing articles and making up pages. Due to an oversight, Betty Wise and John Douglas do not have pictures with the staff.

The Drama Club has experienced another glamorous year. As has been the case in other years, we were limited in stage and setting but we are gradually improving and perhaps before many years the club will have the equipment it deserves. In spite of difficulties the play productions have been successful, so much so that they have been in demand by clubs outside of school and as entertainment at school parties.

There were the days when at a minute's notice a program had to be given. On those days we had variety shows made up of student talent, or sometimes we had lessons in makeup. And how interesting they were! Of course we must not forget the minutes before bell time when Mrs. Fitch read so delightfully "Green Stockings."

Then as a grand climax, the guest party. What a feast!

So you see as we look back over our Drama Club activities, we can rightfully say, "And a good time was had by all."

Front row: Clarence Talley, Edwin Yanuszeski, George Talley, Alexander Yanuszeski, Raymond Sixer, William Moses, Phillip Fluke.

Second row: Durward Wilmot, James Kelham, John Haynes, Sponsor Paul Bateman, Harold Pepple, Keith Strock, Robert Sixer.

Third row: Wayne Custer, Don Schulthess, Arthur DePew, Joseph Leeson, James Herzer, Ralph Tuttle, Wendel Poffenberger.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The activities of the F. F. A. have been many and varied, ranging from Cooperating in the County Fair, the county Muck Crop Show, the District F. F. A. Banquet, and Pest Hunting Contest to sponsoring Livestock Judging Teams, and Corn Judging Teams.

The officers of the organization were: President, Alexander Yanuszeski; Vice-President, George Talley; Secretary, Raymond Sixer; Treasurer, John Haynes; Reporter, Harold Pepple; and Sponsor, Mr. Paul Bateman.

Second row: Vincent Zecca, William Kock, Sponsor John Flora, Donald Diederich, Lee Hughes.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club ends another year of varied activity. The purposes of this organization not only concern the technical phase of radio, but also the study and discussion of broadcast and reception practices. It is hoped that the club's work will ultimately include any activity related to the whole field of radio.

The club officers were: President, Nelson Ross; Secretary-Treasurer, Donald Diederich; Program Chairman, Edward Schneider; and Sponsor, Mr. John Flora.

Front row: Clarence Talley, George Talley, Virginia Malcolm, Betty Ross, Martha Pepple, Madge Traster, Louise Woodard.

Third row: Frank Eldridge, Leo Morris, John Haynes, Maxine Watson, Pearl Eldridge, Edith Davidson.

BIBLE CLUB

This year under the able direction of Mr. Minnear, the first semester and Mr. Morris, the second, the Bible Club has studied the "Life of Christ". Each week the various club members report on assigned subjects which open class discussions. Special programs were arranged at Christmas and Easter.

In this way the club members became better acquainted with the events and characters in the greatest of books.

Front row: William Snyder, Earl Richmond, Joe Myers, Eugene Yanuszewski, Walter Newman.

Second row: Wilbur Mowry, Edward Harwood, Jack DeVeny, Charles Simcox, Harry Bohler, Harry Freeze, Radis Vice.

Third row: Roger Whirledge, Roger Neighborgall, Sponsor Earl Shanabarger, John Kock, Bernard Weaver, Donald Furnish.

FRESHMAN BOY'S CLUB

The activities of the F. B. C. for the year 1937-38 were centered around the major interests of the various groups with the club. In order to give each group an active part in the year's work, new officers were elected for each six weeks period.

The program for the year included studies of citizenship, causes of crime, science and aeronautics.

The social committee gave several parties during the course of the year.

GIRL RESERVES

As the year of '38 draws to a close, the Girl Reserves look back on a most eventful year. We can remember the district conference at Butler and the impressive candle-light service; the wienie roast 'neath the big silvery moon; the Girl Reserve-Blue Triangle, the High Y-Girl Reserve, and the Ma, Pa, Me Party; the regular meetings with their lectures and panel discussions on health, etiquette, occupations, and success were especially interesting.

All these things, along with the privilege of organizing a Girl Reserve Club for the Auburn girls, have instilled within us the desire to live our code and give the best.

The club officers were: President, Olive Minniear; Vice President, Mary Micu; Secretary, Catherine Gallatin; Treasurer, Mary Jo Behler; Program Chairman, Jeanne Brennan; Social Chairman, Dorothy Wagner; Music, Margaret McKinley; and Sponsor, Miss Marie Thrush.

Front row: James James Richman, Charles Carlin, Paul Smith, Arthur Warner, Gene Carpenter, Harvey Hochstetler, Robert Hendrickson, Franklin Pickard.

Second row: Joe Geyer, Darrell Marr, Buford Francis, Ronald Freeze, Glenn Kistler, James Alford, Richard Likens, Daryl Dalrymple, Edward Runion.

Third row: Jack DePew, Joe Leeson, Robert Gallatin, Sponsor John Flora, Charles White, Dale Hart, Nelson Ross, LeRoy Stoll.

Fourth row: John Grimm, Harold Seidel, Frank Omohundro, Eugene Strange, Richard Brechbill, Kenneth Hopkins, Bill Van Fleit, Bill Creager, Melvin Schendel.

HI-Y CLUB

Among their activities this year, the club held regular weekly meetings, attended the District Hi-Y Conference at Auburn, sponsored a pep session as a prelude to the Auburn-Garrett football game, and entertained the Girl Reserves with an informal party. During Lent, Reverend Dunkin of the Baptist Church and Reverend Lenders of the Lutheran Church gave valuable talks at two of the regular meetings.

The club officers were: President, Glenn Kistler; Vice President, Frank Omohundro; Secretary, Richard Brechbill; Treasurer, LeRoy Stoll; and Sponsor, Mr. John Flora.

Front row: Beverly Bapst, Grace Baysinger, Rebecca Marti, E la Noel, Mary Bloom, Miriam Voorhees, Virginia Malcolm, Mary Moody, Gladys Zinn, Eileen Voorhees, Bonnie Hazeltine.

Second row: Doris Freeman, Eleanor Sonder, Betty Cerasole, Alma Hillegass, Alelia Anderson, Eileen Zinn, Phyllis Mann, Margaret Hamm, Dorothy Brown, Margaret Erickson, Betty Zern, Mary Roberts, Lois King, Cecilia Bartels, Mary Sleek, Marcia Crowl.

Third row: Martha McKinley, Patricia Gelhausen, Kathleen Connor, Cleo Smith, Dorothy Schultess, Jeanette Chester, Sponsor Mrs. Casner, Mary Milks, Joyce Clark, Dorothy Cattell, Kathryn Miller, Marjorie Kelham, Naomi Murphy.

Fourth row: Berneice Wetoskey, Dora Sarber, Dorothy Yingling, Florence Zulick, Miriam Williams, Meredith Holsinger, Mary Whelan, Fara Lee Pearson, Patricia McDowell, Kay Kalafat, Ila Warner, Alma Bowlby, Iona Bond.

BLUE TRIANGLE

This year the Blue Triangle, under the leadership of Mrs. Casner has had one of its most active years. With a total membership of sixty-six girls, the club has had many activities among which were the party with the F. B. C., the Silver Moon skating party, and the Fashion Tea to which the mothers were guests.

Meetings were held every Monday, the eighth period. The officers were President, Cleophus Smith; Vice-President, Jannette Chester; Secretary, Lorraine Babbitt; Treasurer, Ila Warner; Program Chairman, Betty Bertsch; and Sponsor, Mrs. Fred Casner.

HUMOR

"Why should you ride a mule if you wish to be rich?"
"Because you are no sooner on and you are better off."

Teacher: "What do you mean by coming to school with your hair in that condition?"
Lee Hughes: "No, comb, Miss."

Teacher: "And what nationality are you, Paul?"
Paul S.: "Half Irish, Half English and Half Scotch."

"Harold, is it correct to say 'this ere,' and 'that are?'"
"Why, of course not, John."
"Well, I don't care whether it is correct or not, but I feel cold on this ear from that air."

Robert: "I'm in an awful fix."
John: "What's the matter?"
Robert: "I lost my glasses and I can't look for them until I find them."

Marcella McC.: "I got a cold in the theater last night."
Marguerite Dirr: "How come?"
Marcella: "I sat in Z row."

Science Teacher: "What is the formula sign for water?"
Kalista B: "H-I-J-K-L-M-N-O."
Science Teacher: "What do you mean?"
Kalista B: "Why, you said it was H to O."

Mother: "What does D stand for on your report card?"
Edna D: "Dandy."

Gym Teacher: "Hey, you. Mark time."

Don Diederich: "With my feet, sir?"

Gym Teacher: "Have you ever seen anything mark time with its hands?"

Don Diederich: "Yes, sir, clocks, sir."

Betty Bachtal: "How long can a goose stand on one leg?"

Betty Ballantine: "Don't know."

Betty Bachtal: "Try it and see."

Catherine Gallatin: "Say, your old umbrella is full of holes."

Gene Byers: "Oh, yes, that's to see whether it is raining or not."

Miss Gump: "Glenn, why are you laughing?"

Glenn Kistler: "Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Miss Gump: "But you stay after school alone."

Teacher: "Ruth, did you push the window wide as I told you?"

Ruth Shaffer: "Yes, sir. I pushed the bottom part all the way up and the top part all the way down."

Helen Tibbals: "How does your brother like the job of running an elevator?"

Elizabeth Hopkins: "Oh, he's taken up with it."

"Pa, what is the Board of Education?"

"Well, son, when I went to school it was a pine shingle!"

Doris Fuller: "How did you like my singing today?"

Devella Sleek: "Your singing gets worse every day and today you sang like the day after tomorrow."

Helen Ervin: "Hear the birds singing, that is music."

James Redmond: "Hear the cows lowing—that's moosic."

Doris Bowmar: "Is this the Weather Bureau?"

Yes, ma'am."

Doris Bowmar: "How about a shower tonight?"

"It's alright with me if you need one."

Teacher: "Children, there will be only a half day of school this morning."

Ruth Custer: "Oh, good."

Teacher: "We'll have the other half this afternoon."

Mary Dennis: "Pass the lump sugar, please."

Iona Diederich: "We haven't got lump sugar heres the granulated sugar and if you don't like it you can lump it."

Mrs. Fitch: "Waitress there is a tack in this doughnut."

Eileen Stuckman (As the waitress): "Well the ambitious little thing must think it is in a tire."

Ardith: "Are you sure that this century plant will bloom in a hundred years?"

Florist: "Positive ma'am. If it doesn't bring it back right away."

Row two: Murland Anderson, James Alford, Joe Leeson, Bill Van Fleit, Clyde Lewis, Dale Hart, Delmer Smith.

BASKETBALL

A basketball team capable of good playing, and also vice versa, was the final judgment of the Garrett Railroaders basketball team this year. Although handicapped by graduation last year the team did quite well, winning fourteen games, tieing one and losing seven. The Railroaders tied with Waterloo for first place in the State Corner Conference and ended in third place in the N. E. I. C. This was the second consecutive year for the Railroaders to win the sectional tourney; however the boys were eliminated in the opening game of the regional by Kendallville. Although four letter men are lost this year the outlook for next season is a very bright one.

BASKETBALL LINE-UP

GLEN KISTLER—1, 2, 3, 4 Senior.

Glen was the sparkplug of the offense. He rated the high point man of the team and was also the runner-up in the N. E. I. C. Conference in the individual scoring race. He was elected captain by his teammates.

CHARLES HAMM—2, 3, 4 Senior.

Charles was the sparkplug of the defense this year. He very seldom broke into the high-scoring column but he kept his man from scoring, too.

JOHN GRIMM—2, 3 Junior.

John played center. He was the consistent player of the team and could always be counted on to score a couple of long shots.

MURLAND ANDERSON—3, 4 Senior.

Murland was the reserve guard this year but when he did get a chance to play he showed his merit.

ROBERT VANLEAR—3 Junior.

Robert played reserve guard this year and could always be counted on for one more basket the fancy way.

EDWARD RUNION—3, 4 Senior.

Edward was the next high scorer. He was quite tricky in his movements on the floor which enabled him to score.

JOE GEYER—3 Junior.

Joe was another low scorer but a good defensive player. He was used under both baskets to serve as re-bound for Garrett.

DALE HART—2 Sophomore.

Dale was reserve forward and will be counted on in the future games to score for the Railroaders.

JOE LEESON—2 Sophomore.

Even though Joe was quite inexperienced this year he will be very valuable in the seasons to come—we hope!

WILLIAM VANFLIET—2 Sophomore.

We are depending on Bill's height and accurate basket-eye to bring home the bacon.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

GLEN KISTLER—Quarterback 2, 3, 4 Senior.

Glen was one of the smartest and fastest quarterbacks in this corner of the state.

CHARLES HAMM—Half-back 2, 3, 4 Senior.

Charles was the boy who took delight in opening the way for some one else and backing up the line.

JOHN GRIMM—Half-back 2, 3 Junior.

John played brilliant ball and has one more year to show his merit.

MURLAND ANDERSON—Full-back 3, 4 Senior.

Murland was the boy who gave us yardage when things got tough.

DARRELL MARR—Half-back 4 Senior.

Darrell was the all-around backfield man and used where ever he was needed.

EDWARD MUZZILLO—Half-back 2 Sophomore.

Edward was another all-around man in the back-field and was used wherever and whenever he was needed.

JOE GEYER—End 3 Junior.

Joe was a surprise find this year and played as good a game as any man on the field.

We're Keeping 'em,
Coach!

LEONARD ALFORD—Tackle 2, 3, 4 Senior.

Leonard played two positions on the line—that of guard and tackle. Leonard had the honor of being elected honorary captain by his teammates.

JAMES ALFORD—Guard 2 Sophomore.

Jim was the small boy of the team and was quite young this year but he has great hopes for the years coming.

FRANK OMOHNUDRO—Center 3, 4 Senior.

Frank was the big fast boy of the team and stopped plenty of foe's hopes for touchdowns.

ROBERT HERBERGER—Guard 4 Senior.

Robert was shifted from backfield to line and proved that some backfield men are tough.

MELVIN SCHENDEL—Center 4 Senior.

"Red" played reserve center and any place where he was needed and he developed into one of the best defensive men of the team.

ROBERT VANLEAR—Tackle 2, 3 Junior.

Robert was in on every play and always ready for more. A tough boy in any football game.

EDWARD RUNION—End 4 Senior.

This was Ed's first year out for football but he proved that he wasn't so green.

TRACK

This year the track squad appeared to be one of the strongest squads ever to be organized in Garrett High School. To the present date the Parksmen have been in a total of eight track meets, five dual meets—winning all of these—and one three-way meet. They were in two large relays—the Gary Relays and the Muncie Relays. They have undoubtedly made a marvelous record—one to be proud of.

FOOTBALL

A very successful season was enjoyed by the Garrett Railroaders football team this season. The victories were over Portland 51-0, Howe Military Academy 20-0, Columbia City 35-0, Central Catholic of Fort Wayne 25-19, and Huntington 21-0. The final and most outstanding game of the season with Auburn was won by Garrett with a score of 35-14. Garrett took defeats from Goshen 12-6 and from North Side of Fort Wayne 25-12.

Yea, team! Fight!

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

And lo! I had a dream and in that dream I saw a mystic lamp upon which was inscribed, "Whosoever shall rub this lamp and express a wish, it will be granted to him." Filled with astonishment I drew nearer and began to wonder what really would happen if I should rub the lamp. So summoning all my courage I passed my hand lightly over the lamp and spoke aloud my wish, "Let there be granted to me a pair of magic wings that I might fly into the future of my friends of the dear old class of thirty-eight." Scarce had I spoken before I felt my self being slowly lifted up, up, faster, higher into the air! My feeling of delight and amazement increased as I was borne along with comparative ease at such a rapid pace.

Looking below at the ever-changing country and shifting scenery, I noticed that I was being carried westward—over the Rockies and soon the vast expanse of the Pacific lay before me. I was in Oregon, flying directly over the lumber camp of the noted lumber king, Harold Pepple. Sailing along toward the south I peeked in through the window of a fast moving Pullman. There at a Directors' meeting was Melvin Schendel, newly-elected president of the Seattle-to-Los Angeles Railroad and with him was his secretary, Berneice Miller. (She is said to be the highest paid secretary in the country.)

Just for an instant I saw them; then I was carried to Hollywood where a motion picture was in production. The director, Lee Hughes, was discussing the script with the playwright, John Douglas. Nearby, Doris Fuller and Betty Ballentine, two well-known actresses, were rehearsing their lines for the next scene.

In Los Angeles I found Elizabeth Hopkins proprietor of the famous Peanut Grove where Marjorie Ballentine and her Swing Band are heard nightly. Floating on toward Alameda I noticed a huge China Clipper about to take off for Honolulu, and at the controls was Betty Bachtal, a crack trans-oceanic pilot.

Sailing eastward I caught sight of Albuquerque where Sante Fe's new streamlined train, the Super-Chief, was pulling into the station with Leonard Alford at the throttle. At the rear of the train amid confusion and shouts of farewell, the screen fans of New Mexico were bidding adieu to their favorite screen idol, Buford Francis.

I desired to stay awhile but the magic wings carried me on, on, to the cattle region of the great Lone Star State. There I discovered the large ranches of two very bitter competitors. I learned that the ranches were the "Patterson Bar X" and the "Omohundro Bar Q". It is amazing! So many years have passed but still Majane and Frank are trying to outdo one another. It is rumored, however, that they may combine under the name of "Pat-Omo Bar X Y Z."

Then my course completely changed and I was rapidly sailing northward. By the clouds of black smoke I knew that I was nearing Chicago. My attention was turned to the spacious lawn of a large hospital where Don Diederich, now a financier, was recuperating from a tonsil operation. He was being wheeled about in a wheelchair by Ardith Harrigar, a Registered Nurse. At the famous Palmer House John Gault was featured with his world famous string ensemble with Ruth Shaffer as vocalist. I chanced to fly over the N. B. C. Studios. There about to begin reading the "funnies" to all the little radio children was "Uncle Bob Herberger." There also every Friday afternoon, Doris Bowmar, who has replaced Betty Crocker, conducts a special kitchen program entitled "Aidies to the Ladies." I learned also that Jean Redman is the newly appointed managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, where Frances Smith, Darrell Marr, and Glenn Kistler are star reporters. Looking in at Marshall Field's I saw three model mannequins who were none other than Gene Byers, Margaret McKinley, and Patricia Moran.

After these few minutes in Chicago, I was borne eastward to the great auto city of America. There in the heart of Detroit I stopped at a large drive-in-market operated by Mary Denes, and in the president's office at General Motors I discovered Charles Hamm dictating a letter to his very competent secretary, Naomi Shreve. At the Henry Ford Hospital who should I see, but that noted dietician, Catherine Gallatin.

From Detroit I flew directly to DeKalb County where I learned that Paul Smith is now principal at dear old Garrett High and that James Redmond is athletic director at the Altona School of Technology where Hazel Minto is employed as a professor of Civil Government.

Upon leaving the site of our Alma Mater I was carried away to Niagara Falls where I discovered Eugene Strange serving as a guide to newly-weds. There also, the famous Niagara Honeymoon Hotel is under the management of Eileen Stuckman and Helene Tibbals.

Departing from Niagara, I came in sight of the Ideal Chicken Farm at Poughkeepsie where Joan Umbehower is a bacteriologist for the owner, Marguerite Dirr.

Then soaring high over mountains and valleys I reached New York City where the first thing that caught my eye was a huge mansion on Riverside Drive. Here Iona Diederich was entertaining some of her society guests among whom were Ruth Baker, Geneva Warstler, and Kathryn McDanel. As I was sailing down Fifth Avenue I sighted the exclusive "Eleanor Spencer Gowne Shoppe" and adjoining it was the beauty salon of the noted hair stylist, DeVella Sleek. After floating in and out among the tall skyscrapers I landed on the marquee of the Metropolitan Opera Company where the opera "Rigoletto" was being rehearsed with Ruth Custer starring as "Gilda" and Jerome Heinlen in the role of "Rigoletto." I soared over Columbia University where Professor Murland Anderson was conducting his daily class in Economics. From there I journeyed to Carnegie Hall where the world famous conductor-composer, Richard Brechbill was conducting the New York Symphony Orchestra, featuring Mary Jo Behler, noted harpist, and John Sapp, well-known baritone. On the outskirts of New York City I sighted a fashionable girls' school owned by Dorothy Warfield and Barbara Worman, who were assisted by Helen Ervin and Edna Downend. After a few moments the scene shifted to Wall Street where Edward Runion holds sway as president of the New York Stock Exchange. Circling about I discovered Dorothy Koble, head librarian of the Public Library and Marcella McCorkel, dancing teacher in Arthur Murray's School of the Dance. Again I was wafted along; this time to the harbor of New York City. There on board an American liner amid a great host of people among whom were some of my '38 classmates, I saw Olive Minnear, the U. S. minister to Afghanistan; Mildred Millhouse, noted authoress; Helen Klinker, well-known star of the stage; and Kalista Bachtal, nursemaid of the fifteen-year-old Dionne quintuplets.

Just as I began to descend, something happened! One of my magic wings crumpled and I began to fall down, down, down toward the black waters of the Atlantic and I seemed to hear a "snap, snap!" I looked up and heard the voice of Mrs. Fitch saying, "All right, Mary, come to the party!"

—Mary Micu, '38.

The N. E. Corner of the Overall Band boosts Coach Parks and the team on to a 36-33 victory over Auburn, as "Boots" leads the fans in a rousing yell.

Hamm makes a free throw and Bandmaster Fred Casner, dressed in his dad's oversize overalls raises his baton as a signal to "call in the flag". Can't you still hear the hissing of the steam and the clicking of the rails?

Assistant Coach Bateman has no worries as to the outcome when the Iron Men really get going.

"Wilson" doesn't even grumble when he has to clean up after such a squad.

It's the "Gipsy in me".

"That's right," says O. B. "Now you have the skates in the right place."
